Registration is scheduled from 8-9 a.m. in the Gallery Lounge.

set up according to school name, not cities. Only the adviser should come to the table to register the school.

Julie Weithorn, Trico High School, is the director for the Fall Conference.

She notes that most sessions will be taught by professional journalists from the area.

Some of the features sessions will be presented by the managing editor of the Mt. Vernon Register-News, a staff editor from the Southeast Missourian from Cape Girardeau and a feature writer from the Wayne County Press.

In addition, three separate photography sessions will be available. They are designed for beginning, advanced and sports photographers.

Also, advisers and editors are asked to bring the first edition of their newspaper as On-Site critiques will be available.

Registration for a critique should be done when the school registers for the Conference. The 15-20 minute critique sessions will be conducted by area newspaper advisers.

The Conference will also feature some entertainment and games to help different schools get acquainted.
