

January 26, 1987

1987 Golden Dozen Yearbook Contest (based on 1986 books)

Six winners in the Under 400 enrollment

Cairo High School, Egypti, Phyllis Halliday, adviser; Buffy Halliday and Michelle Holman, editors.

Clay City High School, Claytonian, Julie Oesch, adviser; Melissa Hosselton, Cindy Kistner, and Amber Jo Zimmerman, editors.

Cobden High School, Appleknocker, Merna O'Brien, adviser; Anne Askew, Tina Cerny and Angie Middleton, editors.

Columbia High School, Columbian, Del Hanegan, adviser; Lisa Roush and Lori Reeves, editors.

Wayne City High School, Chieftain, Ione Kassner, adviser; Missy Helm and Janet Youngblood, editors.

Woodlawn High School, Echo, Brenda Hodges, adviser; Leann Bickmore, Kim Braddy, Lynnette Grant, Marsha Sanders and Stephanie Sides, senior staff members.

Seven winners in the Over 400 enrollment

Centralia High School, Sphinx, Susan Hathaway, adviser; Natalie Hawkins, editor.

Fairfield Community High School, Reflector, Julia Brewer, adviser; Jeanette Mills, editor.

Harrisburg High School, Keystone, Lynda Clemmons, adviser; Chip Bertino and Amy Noah, editors.

Paducah (Ky.) Tilghman High School, Pathways, Pam Ladd, adviser; Tracy Conway, editor.

Salem Community High School, Salemarion, Sharon Frankland, adviser; Tricia Engle, editor.

Southwestern High School at Piassa, Triad, Bob Gillingham, adviser; Lisa Beuttel and Lori Goforth, editors.

Sparta High School, Bulldog, Ed Simpson, adviser; Art Ashbrook and Amy Colbert, editors.

*Important Note: The judge, Ellen Shelley, adviser of the Phoenix at Fairborn, Ohio, requested that the traditional "dozen" be changed to a special "baker's dozen" this year.